Vivian Berkeley (Athlete)

Vivian Berkeley is a two-time World Blind Lawn Bowling Champion who is recognized as the greatest Canadian athlete of all time in her category (B1 blind lawn bowler). After proudly carrying the Paralympic Torch on its way to Atlanta, this world-class competitor went on to win silver at the 1996 Paralympic Games. Berkeley's successful 21-year career also includes a 2002 bronze medal at the Commonwealth Games. These distinctions highlight only part of her incredible career achievements, with 60 total medals won, including 17 at the international level, 21 national golds (defended for 16 straight years), as well as 22 straight provincial golds. Additionally, Berkeley has helped to build her sport for people who are blind and living with vision loss in Canada and abroad.

Frank Folino (Achiever)

Frank Folino has been an enduring leader and advocate for the Deaf community. Born Deaf himself, he currently serves as President for Canadian Association of the Deaf-Association des Sourds du Canada (CAD-ASC). In this role, he carries out community outreach and advocacy initiatives to promote the rights of Deaf Canadians from coast to coast who use American Sign Language (ASL)/English and langue des signes Québécoise (LSQ)/French. Among his notable successes, Folino was a passionate advocate to include Sign language in the landmark Accessible Canada Act. Additionally, he was an interim board member for Administrator of Video Relay Services and currently serves as an advisor to several government, non-profit and human rights organizations in his role as CAD-ASC President. Folino has also received awards recognizing his volunteer service.

Honourable Carla Quatrough (Builder)

Honourable Carla Quatrough is a successful lawyer, committed volunteer and Paralympic swimmer who is dedicated to advancing issues of equity, diversity, and inclusion. Currently serving as Minister of Employment, Workforce Development and Disability Inclusion, she was first elected as the Member of Parliament for Delta, BC in 2015. Professionally, she has practiced human rights law at the federal and provincial levels and chaired the Minister's Council on Employment and Accessibility in British Columbia. She has been of significant service through sport and volunteerism, including with the International Paralympic Committee and for the Toronto 2015 Pan and Parapan American Games. Visually impaired since birth, her athletic achievements include three Paralympic and four World Championship medals. She has also been named one of Canada's Most Influential Women in Sport numerous times.
